Judge Thomas M. Durkin
United States District Court

Dear Judge Durkin,

This morning on the radio I heard that Tom DeLay had written a letter requesting leniency in the sentencing of J. Hastert, saying he was a "good man who loved the Lord". I believe he misspoke.

A "good" man doesn't lie
mislead investigators
obstruct justice
parade around as an up-

standing citizen
molest and abuse others
A man "who loves the Lord" will obey His commands
do good to others

It appears that from the beginning Dennis Hastert's main concern has been for self-preservation.

When sentencing him, consideration should be given to the facts of the crime(s), not for the defendant's age, health or position.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Joan D. Nostell
